DETAILED ACTION

Specification

1. The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because in line 2, "are provided" is a phrase which can be implied and should not be used in the abstract. Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).
2. Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure.

The abstract should be in narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 150 words. It is important that the abstract not exceed 150 words in length since the space provided for the abstract on the computer tape used by the printer is limited. The form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means" and "said," should be avoided. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details.

The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

4. Claims 6, 7, 9 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Art Unit: 1732

Claims 6, 7, 9 and 10 each recite a step "e" ; however, neither claim 1 nor claim 2 (from which claims 6, 7, 9 and 10 depend) recite a step "e" and thus, it is not clear what applicant intends to cover by the recitation of step "e" in claims 6, 7, 9 and 10.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

7. Claims 1-4, 6, 7, 9 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Fujishita et al (U.S. Patent

Art Unit: 1732

4,560,734) in combination with either Morin et al (U.S. Patent 6,656,404) or Inoue (JP 2001-081628).

Fujishita et al (see the entire document, in particular, col. 1, lines 7-12; col. 7, line 41 to col. 8, line 36; Examples; Tables 1 and 3) teach a process of making polypropylene tape fibers as set forth in the instant claims, except for the amount of nucleator compound (Fujishita et al do teach the use of a nucleator compound). Morin et al (see the entire document, in particular, col. 2, line 46 to col. 3, line 30; col. 4, lines 18-54) and Inoue (see the entire translation, in particular, the abstract and claim 1) teach the use of a nucleator compound (in a polypropylene composition) in the claimed amounts and it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to combine the disclosure of Fujishita et al with that of either Morin et al or Inoue principally in order to produce polypropylene tape fibers having desired properties (e.g., improved shrink rates).
